

GHAWS Executive 2018

Global Health President

- To connect students of WSMS to global health issues at a national level, keeping them informed and educated so they may become global citizens.
- To oversee the Global Health portfolio, and help execute and coordinate the Global Health portfolio, including activities such as:
 - GHAWS Auction Night
 - Birthing Kit Assembly
 - Global Health Short Course
- To ensure that the group cohesively maintains collaboration on all matters pertaining to GHAWS.

Questions

1. What is your vision for GHAWS?
2. What skills/experience can you bring to the executive in 2018?
3. You are the Global Health President of 2018 and are 3 weeks out from GHAWS Auction Night with no items available to auction and no promotional material out. What do you do?

Community Health President

- To connect students of WSMS to global health issues at a community level, collaborating with local community groups and networks on projects for the betterment of the Western Sydney regions, so they may become active and aware participants of Australian society.
- To oversee the Community Health portfolio, and help execute and coordinate the Community Health portfolio, including activities such as:
 - GHAWS at Bring It On!
 - WSMS Trivia Night
 - GHAWS Bake Sale
- To ensure that the group cohesively maintains collaboration on all matters pertaining to GHAWS.

Questions

1. What is your vision for GHAWS?
2. What skills/experience can you bring to the executive in 2018?
3. As Community Health President of 2018, what community projects do you want to see students of WSMS involved in next year and how will you go about bringing this to GHAWS?

Secretary

- To be the main point of contact for everything inside and outside of GHAWS, collaborating events with other SIG's, GHG's, and other Western Sydney societies.
- To be responsible for the meeting minutes and finances of GHAWS, with an oversight into all of the executive's actions and roles.
- To assist other members of the executive when necessary as organised, versatile team players.

Questions

1. What skills/experience can you bring to the executive in 2018?
2. What do you think are the biggest financial and logistical challenges faced by GHAWS student events and how will you overcome them in next year?
3. You are the Secretary for 2018 and the team is not showing up to meetings and is not collaborating effectively. What do you do?

Publications & Promotions Officer

- To ensure that GHAWS maintains an active public profile through various media, including but not limited to social media i.e. Facebook page/event pages, Snapchat account, Instagram account.
- To make sure that all GHAWS communications are executed in a timely and appropriate manner that complies with the WSMS Communications policy.

Questions

1. What skills/experience can you bring to the executive in 2018?
2. What do you think are the biggest promotional challenges faced by GHAWS student events and how will you overcome them in next year?
3. You are the Publications and Promotions Officer in 2018 and are planning out the year ahead. What do you do?

AMSA Global Health Representative

- To represent WSU to the National AMSA Global Health body, collaborating with other Global Health Groups on AMSA's national projects of 'Red Party', 'Code Green' and 'Crossing Borders for Health'.
- To lead the WSU delegation at Global Health Conference.
- Work with the AMSA Representative to organise Think Tanks and gain student feedback on AMSA Global Health policy.
- To advocate for global health issues, identified by WSU students at a national level.

Questions

1. Choose one of the AMSA Global Health National Projects (Crossing Borders for Health, Code Green, Red Party) and outline your vision for the Project in 2018.
2. You are the AMSA Global Health Rep for 2018 and you want to partner up your Red Party with another university. How would you go about this?
3. How would you increase knowledge about AMSA Global Health among medical students at Western Sydney University?